

ABOUT THE SIDE-OUT FOUNDATION

THROUGH YOUTH EDUCATION AND EMPOWERMENT, THE SIDE-OUT FOUNDATION UNIFIES THE VOLLEYBALL COMMUNITY TO DRIVE CHANGE IN THE WAY THAT BREAST CANCER IS TREATED.

In volleyball, “side-out” means regaining control of the ball. Similarly, The Side-Out Foundation helps people with breast cancer regain control of their lives.

Side-Out unites the volleyball community to impact change.

Each year, tens of thousands of volleyball players, coaches and families across the country join the growing Dig Pink® Movement. Together, they support the development of treatments that are giving stage IV breast cancer patients more quality time with their families and getting them closer to the day we find a cure.

Side-Out owns, funds, and manages game-changing breast cancer research, The Side-Out Protocol.

Through Dig Pink® and other programs, Side-Out coaches thousands of young people in skills such as teamwork, leadership and perseverance and gives them opportunities to live meaningful and healthy lives. Side-Out also awards scholarships that encourage students to continue a life of setting and achieving their goals.

Side-Out educates and empowers young athletes.

Dig Pink® and other Side-Out programs help participants develop skills such as teamwork, leadership and perseverance, giving them opportunities to live meaningful and impactful lives. Side-Out also invests in the future of young athletes by providing access to valuable breast cancer education and awarding college scholarships to Side-Out Ambassadors.
